

JUSTICE DEPT
ATTORNEY GENERAL
1821-1956
Cover Sheet

INTRODUCTION

The records of the Attorney General's Office have been received by the State Department of Archives and History in various and separate groups, and at different intervals, over a number of years.

The material has been arranged chronologically by year within sub-groups. Usually the arrangement within a year is not ideal but in the same order as received.

The first 135 items were re-boxed and labelled in December, 1958, by Mr. John L. Long, Archivist I. The new attached list and labels were typed by Mrs. Rachel R. Robinson, Archivist I, and Mr. Ronald Pritchett, Archivist I. The remaining containers were re-numbered, but their contents remained the same. Subsequent accessions may be added without disturbing the records already in custody in 1958.

NEW RIVER CASE, 1966-1977

Accession Information: Accessioned December 29, 1977.

Schedule Reference: Page 2, item 7. (RS No. 2349)

Arrangement: Topical and Chronological

Finding Aid Prepared By: Christopher Allen, John Lee Bumgarner
(students in Archives class, NCSU)

Date: May 1, 1979 (Note: two finding aids consolidated as one, retyped, February 12, 1992)

In 1965, the Appalachian Power Company proposed to construct a hydroelectric dam on the New River. This dam would have flooded portions of western North Carolina and Virginia. Private, farm, and and environmental groups, as well as several city, county, and state governments organized an effort to stop its construction.

This case file includes correspondence, testimony and exhibits prepared for hearings held before the Federal Power Commission, and briefs, motions, judgments, and responses from the proceedings of the US District Court, US Court of Appeals, and the US Supreme Court.

Finding Aid updated by: Mary Hollis Barnes

Date: 5 April 2001

Correspondence, attorney general's opinions, and attorney general's "no opinion" correspondence with state agencies. The opinions provide written interpretations of the law as well as listing procedures for the agencies to follow. The original requests for an opinion are attached to the opinions when applicable. (All official opinions have been published by the office in NORTH CAROLINA ATTORNEY GENERAL REPORTS and are either printed in abstract or full-text form).

ESCHEATS LEDGER AND STATE HOSPITALS COLLECTION LEDGER, 1926-1964

Accession information: Transferred from the State Records Center on February 27, 1973, and accessioned by the Archives on March 26, 1973.

Schedule reference: None.

Arrangement: See description of contents below.

Finding Aid prepared by: Dick Lankford, Jr.

Date: December 6, 1973.

Mr. Raymond C. Maxwell served for many years as the executive secretary of the State Board of Elections, retiring on December 31, 1964. During the time of his tenure, the position of executive secretary was not a full-time job. Therefore, Mr. Maxwell served as an assistant attorney general collecting support payments for care given patients in state mental hospitals. Mr. Maxwell also served as an assistant attorney general handling escheats for the Consolidated University of North Carolina. These two positions were personal and had no connection with his duties as executive secretary of the State Board of Elections. The arrangement allowed Mr. Maxwell to have full-time employment and was terminated upon his retirement.

This volume is a combination of ledgers reflecting the financial dealings of Mr. Maxwell in carrying out the above mentioned duties. The volume contains a record of escheats handled for the university; an account of state hospital collections and investigations of the estates of deceased patients. There are also ledger entries for travel expenses incurred in performing these functions.

Date: January 8, 1974.

Mr. Raymond C. Maxwell served for many years as the executive secretary of the State Board of Elections, retiring on December 31, 1964. During the time of his tenure, the position of executive secretary was not a full-time job. Therefore, Mr. Maxwell was allowed to serve as a special assistant handling escheats for the University of North Carolina. This position was a personal one and had no connection with his official duties as executive secretary of the State Board of Elections. The arrangement allowed Mr. Maxwell to have full-time employment and terminated upon his retirement.

These records reflect the work of Mr. Maxwell as special assistant handling escheats for the university.
